

There are many websites devoted to and offering advice about elective home education. These are a selection of some of them. The websites were correct as of the date the above. Websites do change from time to time and it may be more appropriate to do a search via a search engine.

The inclusion of an organisation or a website is not an endorsement. You should talk with the individual organization or review the website to see if they will be able to provide the service / support you or your child needs.

If you find a website does not work please email ehe@camden.gov.uk

<https://mrbruff.com/>

guides for English – charges apply

<https://www.edplace.com/>

Revision guides for SATs and GCSE for English

<https://www.edshed.com/en-gb>

The Literacy Shed – Loads of ideas and inspiration (Key Stage 2 and 3)

<https://www.englishandmedia.co.uk/publications/free-key-stage-3-and-home-learning-pack>

Key stage 3 resources – some are free

www.letters-and-sounds.com/

Letters and Sounds - phonic resources (Key Stage 1)

www.literative.com/Home/index.asp

Literative: Help for early readers. Subscription required (Key Stage 1)

<https://reading-well.org.uk/>

Emotional Wellbeing recommended books

www.studydog.com/

Study Dog: great for reading. Subscription required (Key Stage 1)

www.teachit.co.uk

Teach It – Worksheets and downloads requires membership but no subscription

<https://teachers.net/>

Extensive range of lesson plans and resources for learning. Online debates feature top educational officials. Local community section with links to museums, libraries etc.

<https://www.twinkl.co.uk/resource/tf-l-4-brilliant-book-list-eyfs-book-list>

there are also Brilliant booklists for Year 1 - 6 on Twinkl

<https://uk.ixl.com/>

English resources from Reception to Year 13

Press reports

<https://theconversation.com/five-ways-to-help-your-child-develop-a-love-for-reading-150669>

10 top tips for parents to support children to read - GOV.UK \(www.gov.uk\)