

In the digital world where shadows play,
Guard your information, keep threats at bay.
Passwords strong like a fortress wall,
Don't share too much; it protects us all.

Links can be tempting, don't click too fast,
Be mindful of emails; some could be traps.
Privacy settings, adjust them just right,
Stay safe in the day, and secure through the night.

A friend request's not always what it seems,
Be wise and alert, protect your dreams.
In cyberspace, let wisdom be your guide,
With safety online, let's take it in stride.
