

Special Education Needs Resources

There are many websites devoted to and offering advice about elective home education. These are a selection of some of them. The websites were correct as of the date the above. Websites do change from time to time and it may be more appropriate to do a search via a search engine.

The inclusion of an organisation or a website is not an endorsement. You should talk with the individual organization or review the website to see if they will be able to provide the service / support you or your child needs.

If you find a website does not work please email ehe@camden.gov.uk

Camden Local offer

Information about support for children and young people (aged 0-25) with special educational needs and disabilities, and their families.

<http://www.sendiasscamden.co.uk/>

The SENDIASS Service aims to help parents/carers, children and young people and professional staff to work together to provide the best possible support to children and young people with SEND.

Other resources

<https://contact.org.uk/>

Contact (previously known as Contact a Family)
Advice and support for families with disabled children

Council for Disabled Children

A range of links to other organisations

www.dyslexia.uk.net

Dyslexia UK

www.he-special.org.uk

Special Educational Needs SEN Home Education

(IPSEA) Independent Provider of Special Education Advice

IPSEA stands for Independent Providers of Special Education Advice. They have an advice line, including advice on tribunals and legal information, advice and support. Their website also contains a wealth of information, resources and guides on a wide range of aspects of SEN and EHCPs.

School Exclusion Clinic launched to offer free legal advice and representation from Just for Kids Law and Allen & Overy | Just For Kids Law

Just for Kids Law

Offer free legal advice and representation on school exclusion (not exclusive to children with SEND).

SENTAS – Special Educational Needs Transport Advocacy Service

SENTAS - Special Education Needs Transport Advocacy

SENTAS provides support and information on home to school transport, including the legislation and statutory government guidance that surround this issue.

<https://www.sossen.org.uk/>

SOS SEN offer independent and confidential telephone helpline for parents and others looking for information and advice on Special Educational Needs and Disability (SEND).

Short breaks form one element of the support offered by Camden council to children and young people with disability and their families.